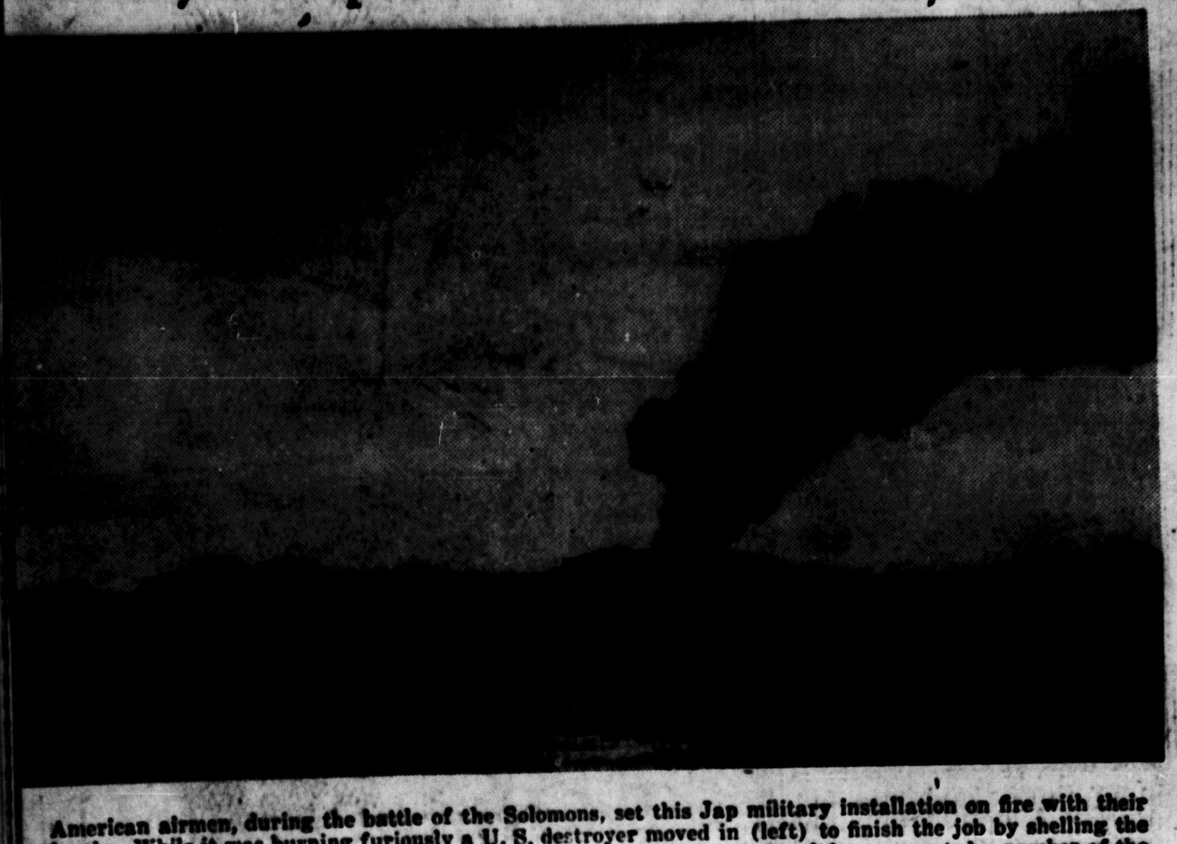
PERIL TO STALINGRAD CONTINUES

Destroyer Prepares to Shell Jap Solomons Base



American airmen, during the battle of the Solomons, set this Jap military installation on fire with their bombs. While it was burning furiously a U. S. destroyer moved in (left) to finish the job by shelling the base. The photo was made off Tulagi during the battle in which our naval forces wrested a number of the strategic islands from the Japs. This is an official U. S. Navy photograph.

First Aid Instructors, Pharmacists, Hospital Attendants Are Needed

Men With General Knowledge Of Chemistry And Botany Needed, Says Lieutenant L. H. Ridout, Jr.

A call for first-aid instructors, pharmacists, hospital attendants, laboratory technicians and even men who have a general knowledge of chemistry and botany was issued by Lieut. L. H. Ridout, Jr., officer in charge of the U. S. Navy recruiting station in Dallas, with promise of special ratings in the Navy hospital corps.

Lieut. Ridout said there is an urgent need at the present time for men with experience in pharmacy, hygiene, sanitation, medicines, first aid and all related work.

Ratings are open from hospital apprentice, second class to pharmacist's mate, second class, with base pay ranging from $54 to $96 a month, in addition to allowances. Lieutenant Ridout pointed out that the lowest rating given in the hospital corps is hospital apprentice, second class, which calls for $54 a month base pay, equivalent to the pay of a first class private in the army.

Men who qualify for the rating of pharmacist's mate, second class could be registered pharmacists, laboratory technicians, registered male nurses and college graduates who might have studied subjects applicable to duties in the hospital corps.

The rating of pharmacist's mate, third class might be given to licensed embalmers, dental technicians and men with standard, advanced and instructors' courses in first aid.

General first-aid work would qualify a man for hospital apprentice, first class, while the training of hospital apprentice, second class would go to those having a suitable education and show an interest or aptitude for medical corps activities.

All men from 17 to 50 years of age who think they might qualify for a rating in the hospital corps and who desire to serve their country in the natty uniform of Uncle Sam's Bluejackets are urged to investigate as soon as possible.

Interviews will be granted by Chief Pharmacist's Mate M. H. Williams in Room 407 of the Post Office Building, Dallas, or you may write Chief Williams in care of the Navy Recruiting Station, Post Office Building.

RUSSIANS COUNTERATTACK TO RELIEVE PRESSURE ON THE CITY; SOVIETS HOLD IN CAUCASUS

GERMANY SIGNS TRADE AGREEMENT WITH TURKEY; CHURCHILL SAYS THAT HALF OF ALLIED FORCES LOST IN THE DIEPPE RAID.

BULLETINS.

The peril to Stalingrad continues, despite Russian gains along the battle front in an effort to relieve pressure on the city. The Germans attacked heavily Northwest of the city, aided by dive bombers. The Russians are hard pressed and find it difficult to bring in reinforcements. The Russian situation in the Caucasus is improving, as they establish lines at Leningrad in the defense of the city.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill in London said that half of the Allied forces were lost in the Dieppe raid. There were approximately 3,300 casualties among the 5,000 Canadian troops engaged in the raid. Allied tank forces struck unexpected street blockades, he said. He also said that steps are being taken to prevent leaks of news concerning American forces in Northern Ireland.

There is a comparative lull in the air war over Western Europe. British officials said that twenty-three students were killed and eighteen are missing following a German attack on a school in an English city. Allied bombers struck Tobruk in Northern Africa.

Germany has signed an agreement with Turkey whereby the Turkish nation will supply the nazis with chrome in return for $14,000,000.00 in war goods. The Germans will have to supply their end of the bargain before Turkey come across with the chrome, which up until this time has supplied the Allies.

Allied forces recaptured a ridge thirty-two air miles from Port Moresby. The Japanese, abandoning equipment and supplies, are retreating Northward through the jungles of the Owen Stanley Mountains, it was anounced Wednesday.

The advance is continuing, said Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters, which revealed the first major Allied ground success since the Japanese began their advance across New Guinea in July.

The Japanese are retreating Northward toward Nauro, ten miles from Ioribaiwa Ridge, the third peak on the Port Moresby side of the range which is some thirty miles wide and reaches as high as 7,000 feet in some places.

Allied medium bombers also joined the attack, hitting the Japanese rear positions near Menari in the mountains.

The Russian army, killing more than 2,200 Germans, beat off all of the main Nazi blows at Stalingrad Tuesday, the Soviet high command said on the thirty-seventh day of siege.

Every Nazi attack in the northwest sector was repulsed during the day, the midnight communique said, and particularly heavy losses were suffered by the Germans in an attempt to take a hill site in that critical corner of Stalingrad where the Germans had penetrated on Monday. It is against the northwestern sector of the city that the Germans are making their major assault.

More than 700 Germans were kiled in the final Nazi assault. A total of twenty-nine Nazi tanks also were destroyed in the sector which includes a workers' settlement.

Criminal Cases Disposed Of In District Court

JUDGE TOM SUGGS IS PRESIDING; NEED OF FARMERS TO HELP GATHER THEIR FARM CROPS CAUSES MANY MEN OF JURY PANEL TO BE EXCUSED.

Criminal cases were disposed of Monday and Tuesday in Fiftyninth District Court, with Judge Tom Suggs presiding. Because of the need of farmers on the farm at this time in gathering their crops, some difficulty was experienced Monday in securing a jury, when all but sixteen of the panel of forty men were excused, most of whom were farmers.

One case was tried Monday, that of the State of Texas vs. Sam Starnes, charged with assault with intent to murder. He was found guilty and given two years in the state penitentiary.

Although the jury was discharged Monday afternoon, several pleas of guilty were heard by Judge Suggs Tuesday as follows:

State of Texas vs. Leslie Drake (col.) charged with assault with intent to murder, on a plea of guilty, was found guilty and given a three year suspended sentence.

The State of Texas vs. Todd Moore, charged in two cases with bookmaking, on a plea of guilty before the Court, was found guilty and given ten days in jail and $100.00 fine and court costs in each case.

Civil cases disposed of this week include:

Georgia Carter vs. Bruce Carter, divorce granted.

M. C. Browning vs. Bonnie Fay Browning, divorce granted.

Fire Destroys One Of Collin's Oldest Landmarks

House Property Of Mrs. W. C. Robinson Of McKinnney! Occupied By Mr. And Mrs. Claude Graves, Northeast of McKinney.

A fire of undetermined origin destroyed one of the county's oldest landmarks Tuesday afternoon about 4 o'clock when the old Burrus homestead, just Northeast of the City limits, was burned. The house was the property of Mrs. W. C. Robinson of this city, but was originally the old Burrus homestead. It was an eight-room frame structure and despite the number of years it had been standing, the house was kept in good repair, with modern conveniences added from time to time. It had electric lights, gas and other conveniences found in a city residence.

The house was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Claude Graves, who operated the Lone Star Dairy and who lost all of the contents, with no insurance. However, Mrs. Robinson had insurance on the building. The two booster trucks of the McKinney Voluneeer Fire Department made a run to the scene and prevented the two large barns on the place from going up in flames.

This leads an Allied official to state that the American victory in the Solomons and the heavy toll of ships and planes taken by the Americans has destroyed much of the striking power of the Japanese. A. Armstrong of Lakeland, Fla., Pays Us Visit

Former McKinney Man, High School Principal For Four Years, And Former Printer, Here This Week To Visit Relatives And Friends.

We appreciate a friendly visit one day this week from Anderson Armstrong, former McKinney citizen, but now of Lakeland, Florida, who was here to visit with relatives and friends in his former home city. He is a brother of Dr. S. T. Armstrong of Lucas and Mrs. Gabe Snider of McKinney.

Mr. Armstrong served for four years as Principal of the McKinney High School prior to 1900 and was engaged in the printing trade for three years, when he was employed by Editor Clint Thompson. He lived in McKinney for nine years, leaving here in 1900 and living at various places in the country until tweney-six years ago when he went to Lakeland, where he has been engaged in the poultry business for several years. His address is Route3, Box 451, Lakeland, Florida. This is his third visit back to McKinney and Collin County since he left and he comments on the improvements that have been made since he left forty-two years ago. There were no paved streets in the city when he left here in 1900. The High School, he says, was located where the present high schools and the Gibson Caldwell Gymnasium are located.

We appreciate his friendly visit and enjoyed meeting up with this fine man and former McKinney citizen and hope that his visits here will be more frequent in the future. We found him a man of genial disposition, enlightened and well informed and the type of man one enjoys conversing with. He enjoyed reminiscing of old times, in McKinney and recalled many person and scenes of former years.

J. T. (Buck) Isom, who recently fell and broke his arm, was in the city Tuesday. This Editor had the pleasure of shaking his friendly hand. He is now recovering from his onjuries, which is good news to his friends.

Get Your Turkeys Ready For Market

The meat situation being what it is, Texas turkey producers have a real opportunity to sell top quality birds this fall, says Geo. P. McCarthy, poultry husbandman for A. and M. College Extension Service.

But only turkeys which are well-finished birds not only are heavier and bring a larger money return to growers, but they dress out nicely and have an eye appeal to the shopper.

To fatten a flock, McCarthy advises restricting the birds to a smaller range and giving them all the feed they desire. They should be fed a good finishing mash, either home-mixed or a commercial mash. In addition, they should be given a grain mixture made up, preferably, of 50 per cent corn, 25 per cent wheat and 25 percent oats and barley. These feeds should be kept in open hoppers and a sufficient amount placed out daily to run the turkeys for the day.

In most sections where turkeys have been on range, McCarthy suggests worming them with individual capsules or a reliable worm powder mixed with the mash before placing the birds on a full fattening program. If they are not eating mash as re[...] as the grower desires, it is a [...] practice to feed them wet [...] twice daily—morning and a[...] noon. Make this mash soft [...] not watery, and feed what [...] birds will clean up in abou[...] minutes. Never allow wet ma[...] remain in the hoppers and [...] This will throw birds off fee[...]

And don't forget plenty of clean water.

ATTENDING CHURCH.

Attend a church? Of course we do,
Like others in our set,
Except on days that seem too cold
Or hot or wet.
And then, of course, in summer,
Just to keep them up to par,
We take the kids on Sundays
For a joy ride in the car.
And sometimes, too, in spring and fall
I take a Sunday off,
And hie me to the country club
To have a game of golf.
But all the other Sundays
You will find us in our pew,
For we always go to church
(When we've nothing else to do).

GOOD ADVICE.

Take time to read, it is the foundation of wisdom.
Take time to worship, it is the high way to reverence.
Take time to be friendly, it is the road to happiness.
Take time to dream, it is hitching our wagon to a star.

"LONDON CALLING."

THERE COMES TO OUR desk each week an interesting magazine, "London Calling," sent from Great Britain, the overseas journal of the British Broadcasting Corporation. The magazine is three years old and gives one a historical record of the war, giving first hand accounts of what is going on in the war. It has something you won't mind in other magazines. It is a miniature history of the war. To show you the type of its contents, here are the subjects of a few of the stories in a recent issue: "The British Army In This War;" "Britain Gets In Its Greatest Harvest Ever;" "Fifty1Five Out Of Every Hundred Are Working For The Government;" "Wavell," and "Rescuing Airmen From The Channel."

ELECTRICITY AND THE WAR.

OUR GOOD FRIEND, H. S. Ware, District Manager of the Texas Power & Light Company of McKinney, comes by to bring a booklet, "Public Service Magazine," which we find a well-prepared and edited magazine. Particularly interesting is a story, "How Electricity Is Fighting The War." While it is readily understandable that we can not go into detail concerning the story, yet one understands at once the importance of electricity in fighting this war. The performance of the electrical industry in America's war effort is unsurpassed and is a tribute to the workmen and the managerial leadership within both the power producing and manufacturing branches of the industry. We appreciate the booklet and assure Mr. Ware that we appreciated looking over its contents, particularly the thrilling story of how electricity is fighting the war.

W. J. Davis Passes At Arlingto; Was Pioneer Citizen

William J. Davis, one of the early settlers of West Collin County, died Sunday, Sept. 13, at the Home for Aged Masons at Arlington.

Surviving are two sons, Houston E. Davis of Dallas, and Chesley E. Davis of McKinney; one granddaughter and one great-granddaughter.

He was a member of the Prosper Baptist Church, Masonic and W. O. W. lodges at Prosper.

Funeral services were held in the Prosper Baptist Church Tuesday afternoon, conducted by the Rev. C. H. Wray. The Masons were in charge of services. Burial was in Walnut Grove Cemetery.

Mr. Davis was 79 years of age and had been a resident of Prosper for 29 years. He owned a fine farm and was a successful farmer until he suffered a stroke several years ago. He was quite well known here in McKinney and was highly respected by every one who knew him.

Mrs. Joe Robert Hunn has returned to her home at Savoy from the McKinney City Hospital here.

N. B. Nichols of 1618 McCoy Street, Dallas, was a McKinney visitor Friday, paid this office a pleasant call and subscribed for the Democrat-Gazette for which we thank him.

V. W. Wilson, a substantial farmer living on Route 5, McKinney, while in the city Saturday on business gave us a business call and renewed his subscription for another year in advance. We thank Mr. Wilson for his friendship and patronage.

McKinney Young Man Volunteers His Services

HERSHEL BURROW.

Another McKinney young man who has volunteered his services for the duration of the war is Hershel Burrow, well and favorably known, and son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Burrow of this city, who recently volunteered as a ground mechanic in the United States Army.

He spent a few days at Camp Wolters at Mineral Wells, Texas, and only a few days ago was transferred to Perrin Field near Sherman. He informs McKinney relatives and friends that he is greatly enjoying life in the U. S. Army. In his present position he is filling an important part to "Keep 'em flying" and is being congratulated by his many friends in this city and county for volunteering his services to his government.

Mr. Burrow is married and his wife will continue to live in Mc-McKinney at 1016 West Street in the Northwest part of the city.

Surgical And Dressing Project Begins In City

Due to business reasons, it was impossible to hold the Surgical Dressing Project in the place first stated through these papers. The Sponsors of this project have been fortunate in securing a room in the Boyd High School to hold these classes. They are being held in the Southeast corner room of the basement of this building. Those attending classes may enter either the east door or the west door of the school, and take the steps leading into the basment.

This seems to be an ideal place to do this work and the committee is grateful to the school board for allowing the use of the room. Mrs. Jack Ryan is chairman of the Surgical Dressing and Bandage Project, and it is her earnest desire that there will be a capacity number of participants.

Straight chairs are badly needed to carry on this work, so we are asking anyone who can spare a straight chair during this course to please bring it to the High School and put it in the room above mentioned, with the name of the owner on the chair.

Scissors and two waste baskets are also needed, so please bear this in mind. This project belongs to all of Collin County, but don't wait for somebody else to do what you should be doing

The work started Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Come and help.

Remember, the Red Cross Needs You.

Special Clinic Held To Explain OPA Regulations

A large crowd attended the special clinic at the courthouse in McKinney Friday night, sponsored by the O. P. A. J. B. Tuttle, senior merchandising specialist from the O. P. A. regional office in Dallas, was present, as was W. M. Ouzts, Business Education Director of the State Board of Vocational Agriculture of Dallas.

The meeting was called by the Collin County War Price and Rationing Board, of which Elton Riggs is Chairman. Mr. Riggs presided and announced the purpose of the meeting. Merchants were present from McKinney and throughout the entire county and showed great interest in an explanation of price regulation and consumer service.

Messrs. Tuttle and Ouzts spent Saturday in McKinney at the War Price and Rationing Board, answering questions of merchants.

Subjects discussed at the Friday night meeting in this city included:

1. New regulations covering firms supplying services, lists to be filed.
2. Special schedules on fall and winter clothing, toys and miscellaneous seasonal articles.
3. New pricing formulas for certain food products.
4. Methods of establishing and posting ceiling prices.
5. Records to be filed and those to be kept in store.
6. Provisions for adjustment where retailer's ceiling price is abnormally out of line with other retailers.

Mr. Riggs, Chairman of the Local War Price and Rationing Board issued the following statement: "Supplementary regulations affecting your busines are issued from time to time. It is your responsibility to keep informed. Read your newspaper and keep in touch with trade groups and your War Price and Rationing Board. Don't hesitate to ask questions. This is your opportunity to learn of your part in our all-out effort to keep down the cost of living, and we urge you to attend the clinic."

Andrew Shirley, prominent farmer of Anna, continues about the same in the McKinney Hospital here where he has been a patient for the past week or two.

Misses Elizabeth Bush and Mary Ann Barlow were able to return to their homes Thursday from a Dallas hospital. The girls suffered severe burns in an explosion of a motor boat on Lake Dallas, nearly three weeks ago. They are convalescing nicely now, and may be able to enter school next week. Their many friends are happy to know they are at home.

Thirty Recruits From Collin In The U. S. Navy

The two-week "Lexington Volunteers" recruiting drive, launched by the Navy Department last Monday, is expected to lend stimulus to Naval enlistments for the North Texas district during September and serve to boost the month's total past the goal of 3,600 recruits. Lieut. L. H. Ridout, Jr., officer-in-charge, announced today.

Latest figures show that nearly 2,500 enlistments have been handled at the main station in Dallas, and Lieutenant Ridout pointed out that a whirlwind campaign during the final days of September will bring in the recruits necessary to round out the month's quota of 3,600 men.

To date, total figures for the month include 30 recruits from Collin County, where the September quota is 50.

Every man recruited during the two-week "Lexington Volunteer" campaign, prompted by the launching Sept. 26 of a new aircraft carrier bearing that name, will receive certificates which they may keep as mementoes. Lieutenant Ridout explained that 10,000 more bluejackets than are ordinarily enlisted nationally during a two-week period are anticipated.

A recruiting officer will be in Dallas Sept. 29, 30 and Oct 1 to inerview applicants for the Seabees, popular overseas construction regiment. Applicants should remember that physical examinations must be passed and two letters of recommendation must be presented at the Dallas recruiting station anytime before Sept. 29. This must be done before interviews are granted and ratings assigned.

Mrs. W. B. Staley of Frisco was a business visitor in McKinney Tuesday.

Man Dies While Hunting Doves In Northwest Collin

While hunting doves Saturday in the vicinity of the Skaggs school house, 5 or 6 miles Northwest of Celina a shower that came up caused Sam P. C. Smith of Dallas, dental supplies salesman, to make a run for his car to escape getting wet. As he reached the car and put out his hand to open the door he collapsed and died almost instantly.

His hunting companion came to Celina and arranged for bringing the body to the Helms Funeral Home, where it remained until a Dallas undertaker came and took it to Dallas. The body was buried Monday in Oakland Cemetery, Dallas.—Record.

Collin 4-H Club Boys Have Busy Program For War

Here's some worthwhile information to Collin 4-H Club members from County Agricultural Agent Jack McCullough:

Young boys certainly have an important job to do in helping to win this war. You are men now and will have to do men's work. There are many things you can do right at home. Here are some of the things you can do and should do:

1. Help all you can around your home. Help do the chores around the house. Help harvest the crops, etc., and do your work willingly and cheerfully.
2. Help produce pork, beef, dairy and poultry products, and all kinds of food, feed, and fiber for our soldiers.
3. Don't be wasteful; save everything that is worth anything.
4. Make money by helping your neighbors gather their crops. Use this money to buy your clothes and other things you need.
5. Keep healthy by eating the proper foods and keeping clean. This will save doctor bills.
6. Be an asset to your parents and not a liability. We have a war to win.
7. Help gather up the scrap iron, tin cans, and meat grease for your government.
8. Play and have a good time, but don't spend too much time playing. Work will win the war.
9. Don't spend money for foolishness.
10. Don't loaf or kill time. Time is too valuable. If you have got to kill time, kill it by working it to death.

Collin County 4-H Clubs will be re-organized in October.

A new and mightier aircraft rrier Lexington slid gracefully wn the ways at the huge Bethhem shipbuilding yards Saturly afternoon at Quincy, Massausetts, filling the gap in the nited States fleet's air arm creed when her 17-year-old nameke sank in the Coral Sea last ay.

Mrs. Theodore Douglas Robinn of Mohawk, N. J., widow of e former assistant secretary of e navy, was sponsor of the oud new fighting ship, just as e was sponsor of the first Carr Lexington seventeen years o.

Certificate Rationing Of Men's Rubber Boots, Rubber Work Shoes To Care For Men In War Effort

Elton Riggs, Chairman Of The Collin County War Price And Rationing Board Says Serious Rubber Shortage Cause Of Action; Tells How To Get Certificate.

Because of the serious rubber shortage, certificate rationing of men's rubber boots and rubber work shoes has been ordered by the Office of Price Administration to insure necessary supplies of this footwear for men working on jobs essential to the war effort or the public health and safety, Elton Riggs, Chairman of the Collin County War Price and Rationing Board announced today.

Mr. Riggs said the action was taken at the direction of the War Production Board.

Effective at midnight September 29, Mr. Riggs said the OPA ordered all sales and shipments of six types of men's rubber boots and rubber work shoes frozen to prevent a buyers' "run" on the stocks now on hand and also to give dealers time to take inventory.

All retailers, wholesalers, and manufacturers of the rationed footwear are required to obtain OPA inventory forms from their local War Price and Rationing Board on either Thursday, Friday or Saturday of this week.

The "freeze" period will end on Monday, October 5, when rationing to customers begins. The Collin County War Price and Rationing Board will be open to workers and company purchasing agents who need certificates entitling them to buy the rationed footwear, Mr. Riggs said.

"To get a certificate," Mr. Riggs explained, "the applicant must fill out two copies of a form that will be available at the local War Price and Rationing Board. These can be obtained by coming to the board in person writing for them, or sending a representative.

"In filling out this form, an applicant must establish the fact that the actual work he performs is essential and he must specify the type of rationing rubber footwear needed and the conditions that make it necessary for him to have them. He also must show proof of his identity, such as his selective service registration, social security number, drivers license or similar identification. He must further establish that he has no available rubber footwear suitable for use on his job, and he must agree to turn in for salvage any unserviceable rubber footwear he owns."

"On receiving this application," Mr. Riggs said, "the board will decide whether the applicant is entitled to get a certificate to buy any type of rationed footwear, and if so the board will authorize him to acquire the lightest weight and shortest type that will adequately serve his purpose.

"If the certificate holder buys from a local retailer he is required to present his certificate, identify himself, surrender any worn out rubber footwear as agreed, and get a retailer's signature on a specified part of the certificate as evidence that he has made the required turn-in.

"Where purchases are made by mail order, the turn-in of old rubber footwear is made to a local scrap collection agency designated by the local board. For this reason the customer sends only two parts of his certificate to the mail order house. On the third part he gets a signature by a representative of the salvage agency to which he surrenders his worn out rubber footwear. Purchasers are required to keep this receipt part of the certificate for six months.

"All sellers of rationed rubber footwear—retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers—are required to take inventory on OPA forms as of midnight next Saturday, October 3. The following specific types of men's rubber boots and rubber work shoes require a high crude ruber content and therefore are included under the rationing order: (1) hip-height rubber boots, including all booots of hip, body, and thigh heights; (2) over-the-knee rubber boots, including Storm King height; (3) all heavy short rubber boots; (4) all light weight short rubber boots; (5) rubber pacs and bootees 10 inches or more in height; (6) rubber pacs, bootees and work shoes less than 10 inches in height. All variations in style and design within these six broad classifications are included." Mr. Riggs added that most types of rubber footwear necessary for ordinary use can be made mostly from reclaimed rubber and therefore are not rationed but can be purchased as usual. "In this non-rationed class.' 'he said, "are men's rubber boots and rubber work shoes smaller than size six, lumbermen's overs, which are leather booths with rubber feet, men's arctics, gaiters, work and dress rubbers, and women's and children's rubber boots, rubber work shoes, arctics, gaiters, and rubbers. Although these types are not being rationed," Mr. Riggs said, "the rubber conservation program depends on the cooperation of the public in not buying any more of these ordinary types than urgent necessity demands."

He emphasized that OPA has restricted sales of the rationed footwear because it is pressed on one hand by the same rubber shortage that has restricted the sale of tires, and on the other by a demand for men's rubber boots and rubber work shoes that grows as wartime agricultural and industrial activity increases.

News From War Front

After statements by Wendell L. Willkie and General Wavell that a second front should be established when feasible, Prime Minister Winston Churchill said that any second front talk is undesirable, indicating that only officials of Allied nations know when and where such a front is likely to be established: The French have been informed by Great Britain that they will be told when the Allied invasion of the continent will begin. The offensive, it is said, is in the making.

AMERICANS AND AUSTRALIANS INFLICT HEAVY LOSSES FROM SOLOMONS TO ALEUTIANS

GERMANS AND RUSSIANS ARE FIGHTING DESPERATELY IN THE CITY OF STALINGRAD, BUT ELSEWHERE RUSSIANS ARE ON THE OFFENSIVE.

BULLETINS.

Although the fighting is desperate in the city of Stalingrad, elsewhere the Russians are on the offensive, striking behind the German lines, hammering at the nazi North flank, and capturing several hills surrounding the city. New penetrations were announced by the Russian forces. The Germans made big claims of gains, but it is evident that the Soviets are more than holding their own along the line, with the exception of the city of Stalingrad, where the battle sways first to one side and then to the other.

Official sources in Great Britain said there is no truth in the German claim that three troop transports, including an American, had been sunk with the possible loss of 10,000 lives. Allied sources point out that the claim of the sinking is from axis sources and that it has no substantiation in any Allied country.

An Allied offensive is in the making in the Southwest Pacific, it is believed, following action of the American and Australian sea, land and air forces, inflicting heavy losses in the Solomon Islands and in the Aleutians.

The Australians are forcing the Japanese back in the Owen Stanley Mountains, where they have been halted for some time in their drive on Port Moresby. American losses have been extremely low, it is said.

The Senate met an hour early Tuesday in an effort to reach a decision on the administration's anti-inflation bill.

Forty-two Japanese planes have been destroyed in the Solomons by Navy and Marine forces of the United States army, and four Japanese ships were damaged, including two cruisers, in four days of fighting, accomplished without loss of an American plane. The action was in progress from September 25 to 28, inclusive. Japanese losses include 209 planes in the Solomons since early in August when the Japanese moved in.

United States Army airmen and Canadian planes together set fire to an enemy ship, destroyed seven planes and killed or wounded approximately 150 Japanese in an attack on Kiska in the Aleutians. Direct hits on a transport brought to thirty-three the total Japanese vessels sunk or damaged by combined Army and Navy operations in the Aleutians. Direct hits on a transport brought to thirty-three the total Japanese vessels sunk or damaged by combined Army and Navy operations in the Aleutians since fighting began in that section.

Australian troops began an offensive against the Japanese defensive positions in the Owen Stanley Mountains of New Guinea and are making progress, scoring the first major gains for Allied forces since the Japanese landed on the North coast of New Guinea in July, and pushed toward Port Moresby, Allied base.

The defenders of Stalingrad fought savagely against the German invaders, as two fresh German infantry divisions and 150 tanks thrown into the assault crashed through Russian lines on the Northwestern outskirts of the city. The Russians admitted they were outnumbered by the enemy, but saidtheir troops had killed more than 1,000 Germans in the last day of fighting.

GERMANS ADMIT RAF RAIDS ARE DAMAGING

Say That British Bombing Attacks Have Increased And Caused Terrific Destruction In Germany.

The German radio admitted in a broadcast that Royal Air Force bombing attacks lately have increased in violence and caused terrific destruction in the Reich, says report from London.

The announcer at one point referred to "the horror and destruction wrought by British bombers in night raids which lately have been of considerably increased violence."

Nazi Colonel Gertz, described as an air expert, was quoted as saying:

"Remembering Versailles and well knowing what it would mean this time to lose the war, the German people are resolute in their determination to hold out."

ENGLISH PAY HIGH TAXES.

Sidelights on life in England during war time are contained in a letter from an English woman to a New York firm, a copy of which has been received by V. B. Hereford from the Gulf States Utilities Co.

Hours are so long in London that many workers have trouble getting a haircut, as the "hairdresser's" as barbershops are called there are closed when the workers get off. Some firms just train an employe to cut hair during regular hours.

Another item of interest is the amount of taxes the individual pays in England. Of every dollar spent for tobacco, 75 cents of it is the tax, and the price is 40 cents for a package of 20. Sugar sells for five cents a pound and the tax is 3.8 cents, or 85 cents out of every dollar. The letter didn't mention the English income tax, which also is extremely high.

Because bathing and laundrying is a problem after an air raid, special mobile units, have been organized for this work. The units traveling in trailers, go to bombed areas with soap and hot water and furnish free washing of clothes and free towels. The laundry squad is an all-woman affair, carries 270 gallons of water, heaters, sinks and a drying cabinet. Each unit can wash and deliver 400 garments daily.

UNCLE SAM NEEDS FATS.

If this nation reaches its goal in the collection of waste fats every rural person must contribute 2.8 pounds per year, or about 15 pounds for the average size family. The quota for urban people is a little higher, 4.5 pounds, to be exact. All in all, the War Production Board hopes to collect five hundred million pounds within a year for the manufacture of munitions.

Louise Bryant, A. and M. College Extension Service specialist in home management, says the fat salvage program got off to a slow start in many counties not served by rendering plants, but collection facilities are being improved everywhere.

Rusk County's Agricultural Victory Council has developed a plan for collection of surplus kitchen fats by rural mail carriers making their routes. The Henderson postmaster has referred the proposal to the Postmaster General in Washnigton. Farm folks in that county are hoping their idea will get the Post Office Department's approval on this service.

So much fo rcollection. Now about conservation. The first purpose of the fat salvage program is to encourage homemakers to use all fat drippings for seasonings. That will reduce the demand on diminishing fat supplies in this country. And the second purpose is to save and sell all household fats which can't be used for cooking.

Start today using every drop of fat. Use it for seasoning or strain it into a clean container with a lid. Miss Bryant's final advice is: Store the fat in a cool dark place until you're ready to sell it at your nearest fat salvage station.

"LONDON CALLING."

THERE COMES TO OUR desk each week an interesting magazine, "London Calling," sent from Great Britain, the overseas journal of the British Broadcasting Corporation. The magazine is three years old and gives one a historical record of the war, giving first hand accounts of what is going on in the war. It has something you won't mind in other magazines. It is a miniature history of the war. To show you the type of its contents, here are the subjects of a few of the stories in a recent issue: "The British Army In This War;" "Britain Gets In Its Greatest Harvest Ever;" "Fifty1Five Out Of Every Hundred Are Working For The Government;" "Wavell," and "Rescuing Airmen From The Channel."

STATE STUDIES ADOPTION OF 35-MILE SPEED.

YOU'LL HAVE TO PRACTICE caution in your driving with a possible 35-mile speed limit. State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer said Monday a study is being made of moves that might be made under Texas law to restrict motor vehicle speeds to thirty-five miles an hour as a tire conservation measure.

The matter was referred to the Highway Department by Governor Coke Stevenson. The Governor, who has strongly opposed gasoline rationing in Texas as unnecessary and detrimental to the state's war effort, said he is in favor of speed limitations as the best method advanced to save tires.

Texas has a maximum speed limit of sixty miles per hour, but the Highway Department has the authority to speed zone sections below this figure.

"There should be no objection to a reasonable request on speed limitation," Governor Stevenson said. "I am wholeheartedly for it and regard it as a real step in the right direction and it is an action that will mean something. It will benefit the tires, the car and the road and in addition, will eliminate many accidents."

The Governor said, however, he was unable to understand, on the basis of knowledge at hand, why this limit was placed at thirty-five instead of forty miles an hour, since the difference in speed was "infinitesimal." He said that in line with his proclamation several months ago calling on Texans to observe a forty-mile speed limit the motorists of the state had, with few exceptions, reduced their speeds to this figure.

No request has been received officially by the Governor to institute the thirty-five-mile speed limit as recommended, requested or ordered by OPA following a direction from the rubber czar, William D. Jeffers. The Governor was requested to take action by the council of state governments, an unofficial organization of state officials.

ELECTRICITY AND THE WAR.

OUR GOOD FRIEND, H. S. Ware, District Manager of the Texas Power & Light Company of McKinney, comes by to bring a booklet, "Public Service Magazine," which we find a well-prepared and edited magazine. Particularly interesting is a story, "How Electricity Is Fighting The War." While it is readily understandable that we can not go into detail concerning the story, yet one understands at once the importance of electricity in fighting this war. The performance of the electrical industry in America's war effort is unsurpassed and is a tribute to the workmen and the managerial leadership within both the power producing and manufacturing branches of the industry. We appreciate the booklet and assure Mr. Ware that we appreciated looking over its contents, particularly the thrilling story of how electricity is fighting the war.

Von Bock Out

According to reports reaching London, General Field Marshal Feodor von Bock, above, commander of the German armies in southeastern Russia, has been dismissed by Fuehrer Adolf Hitler. According to one report, von Bock was dismissed because he wanted to concentrate the German attack on the Caucasus instead of conducting a simultaneous assault on the city of Stalingrad.

What You Buy With WAR STAMPS

In the expensive business of fighting a war, a dime's worth of oxygen may seem like an inconsequential item, yet that much oxygen is enough to keep a bomber pilot alive for 40 minutes in the high altitudes reached by today's war planes. When operating at such extreme ranges, the lives of the pilot and his crew, as well as the safety of his plane, depend upon the unfailing supply of this precious gas which makes up for the deficiency of oxygen in rarefied air.

Your purchase of War Savings Stamps may not add up to the hundreds of thousands of dollars needed to buy one of those high-flying bombers, but every time you invest in a 10-cent Stamp, you are providing money for the oxygen without which our great air fleets would be practically useless. Your Schools at War program will help show you the importance of buying War Stamps regularly.

2. Auto graveyards strip autos, keep the usable parts and junk the rest—turning out 450,000 tons of scrap in a typical month. Each must scrap within 60 days as as many cars as he buys—that is the law!

3. Scrap collections sometimes have to stay around because the dealers can't handle them all immediately. Even if they could, the mills could not store it all. The local salvage depot is a stockpile—where your scrap is available for instant use as soon as it's needed. And it will be needed!

What to Do With Your Scrap

If too heavy to carry and there is no transportation—call 76 your city will collect all scrap.

If you do not wish to donate scrap, sell to any licensed junk dealer—then invest the proceeds in war stamps or bonds. Junk dealers are licensed and are the only channels through which scrap can reach the steel mills.

Farmers and ranchers carry scrap to nearest collection depot. If no conveyance is available, call your nearest community salvage chairman, your county agent or the County Salvage Chairman, George James.

TIN CANS

Tin cans are needed for copper mills—they are shredded and placed in slush pools as retrievers of copper—and for each pound of cans placed, they will retrieve 1½ pounds of copper.

RUBBER

Rubber is still critically needed. Scrap rubber collected in East is now being used, and soon that of the Southwest will be shipped to the mills. Don't be confused over the slow manner in which rubber has been shipped after collection here. It is in the national plan to be that way. Bring your rubber to the scrap pile, or sell to your licensed junk dealer.

GREASE

Five pounds of grease will make 1½ pounds of Nitro-Glycerene. Strain and place in wide mouth cans. When as much as one pound or more is accumulated, sell to your groceryman for 4c a pound. Keep it in a cool place.

For further information, call 208—the Chairman of the County Salvage Committee.

MILLIONS OF TONS OF SCRAP METAL MUST BE COLLECTED

The need for metal scrap is described as "truly critical" by steel men who say this country had stopped living on its metal "fat" and now must dip back 40 years for steel and iron junk.

The statements came as this nation's newspapers, more than 1,600 have pledged their help, assumed leadership in the drive to collect scrap lying around American homes, farms, factories and buildings.

"Many millions of tons of iron and steel scrap must be collected if the tremendous tonnage of steel needed in the nation's war effort are to be produced," said Eugene R. Grace, President of Bethlehem Steel corporation.

Steel men estimated they would need to pile up at least 17 million tons of scrap between now and January 1, when war production is expected to reach its peak. Monthly consumption of scrap now is running at about four million tons, the greatest in history, but still not enough

Individual Responsibility.

"The recovery of scrap is so vital," said Ralph H. Watson, Vice President of the United States Steel Corporation, "that every farmer and every householder has a severe responsibility for the country's production of guns, tanks, ships and shells."

Because scrap collection was lagging badly the government asked the newspapers for the next three weeks to stimulate their communities into an all out effort to dig up metal junk, items no longer needed.

Steel men and headers of the newspaper drive, worried that sight of large piles of scrap in junk yards or elsewhere might give the impression that scrap was plentiful, pointed out:

Those piles, even though unshipped to the mills for a while, mean only that the industry knows where they are, will take them in as soon as trapsportation facilities allow, and can count ahead on how much scrap is known to be available.

McKinney Young Men In U. S. Navy Pre-Flight School

The following McKinney, Texas, men are now enrolled in the U. S. Navy Pre-Flight School at Athens, Georgia: Billy Frank Commons, R. F. D. No. 4; and Loey Preston Proctor, 911 Coleman Street.

Successful completion of the work here will send them to one of the Navy's primary flight centers, then on to advanced instruction and finally an operational base. The entire pilot training period covers 12 months. The four new Pre-Flight Schools are the Navy's answer to the need for physically-toughened, conditioned airmen who whip the Axis. In addition to the southern school, located on the University of Georgia campus, others have been established at the University of North Carolina, East; University of Iowa, Mid-West, and St. Mary's College in California, West.

When the Pre-Flight School at Athens reaches its full strength, it wil linclude nearly 1900 cadets, 200 officers and instructors and 125 enlisted personnel.

Self-Cleaning HOUSE PAINT developed by DU PONT STAYS WHITE!

DU PONT House Paint is a brilliant white . . . and it stays white, too! It is "self-cleaning"! It forms a tough, durable film which protects the surface from rust, rot, or decay. Like all paints, it collects dirt on exposure to the elements. As time goes on, however, a fine white powder forms on the surface of this new paint. This powder is washed away by heavy rains, carrying the dirt with it and exposing a fresh white surface. Usually this self-cleaning process starts after a few months of exposure under normal conditions of weather, but may be delayed under unusual dirt-collecting conditions such as found in sooty industrial areas. Because the "self-cleaning" process is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected.

Du Pont House Paint costs no more than other good paints. And it saves you money because it needs fewer repaintings. Next time you paint, ask your painting contractor to use Du Pont House Paint.

Gas Rationing Due To Begin About Nov. 22

Price Administrator Leon Henderson says that nation-wide gasoline rationing will start probably about Nov. 22 with a basic ration of slightly under four gallons a week.

Motor fuel rationing for the country's 27,000,000 private vehicles patterned after the system now in effect on the Atlantic seaboard will be merged with the rationing into a single program, Henderson said. He did not explain how this would be accomplished.

Eearlier in the day Joseph B. Eastman, Director of the Office of Defense Transportation, called for a nation-wide speed limit of thirty-five miles an hour. Compliance with this, Henderson announced, will be a basic requirement for ootaining both tire and gasoline rations.

In addition, tires on all cars must be submitted every sixty days after rationing starts for onwheel inspection to insure that proper care is given them.

The thirty-five-mile speed limit on the highways and streets was decreed in an official ODT order. It did not carry enforcement or penal provisions but Eastman said he would request the Governors of all states to make it effective through proclamation or otherwise. The Governors will be asked to call upon state and local officials for strict enforcement

Speed Limit Starts Oct. 1.

The speed limit was ordered effective Oct. 1 for all vehicles except trucks and busses operated by common carriers over regularly scheduled routes and for the latter October 15.

Motor vehicles operated by the armed forces or under their direction were exempted, as were cars driven in emergencies for the protection and preservation of life and health or for public safety. The latter must be held to reasonable speeds consonant with the emergency existing.

An ODT spokesman said the action was taken under the wartime powers of President Roosevelt, delegated to Rubber Director William M. Jeffers and by the latter to Eastman.

Henderson did not explain how the speed limit would be tied in with the rationing.

Victory Unit Created For High Schools

War Man Power Chairman Paul V. McNutt says that "the tide of war is still running against us," and that students now in high school may yet have to win the victory.

The statement was made in a broadcast explaining the creation of a High School Victory Corps to give America's 6,500,000 high school students an opportunity to take a definite place in the national war effort through a voluntary enrollment plan to train for the service they may have to give.

"We are beginning to understand how close we came to being too late," McNutt said. "We are beginning to understand that we can still lose. Most of all we are beginning to understand that this will be a long hard war."

He warned theachers and school officials that it would mean unscheduling courses in midsemester and offering new courses for which it may be difficult to find teachers.

Army, Navy, education and civilian arenautics representatives joined with McNutt in indorsing the program.

The corps ofers high school students a war organization of their own and a promise that those who join may wear service caps and arm insignia.

Objectives of the corps, McNutt said will be "immediate, accelerated to perform after leaving school," and active participation in war activities during their school days.

Bonham High Turns Out For Cotton Picking

Several hundred Bonham High school students supplemented by Superintendent Irby Carruth, Principal Baker and other teachers as well as various businessmen pledged themselves at a meeting Wednesday in Bonham High School auditorium to go into the fields and aid Fannin County farmers in picking the cotton crop which promises to be in excess of 45,000 bales. The fields are white and pickers are few. The school will be closed until Monday, October 5, to allow the pupils to help.

Transportation to and from the fields is to be provided by Bonham businessmen. Mayor Hardlick declared that the city would provide transportation for 100 workers. J. E. Christian, local manager for the United States employment service, says at least 1,000 cotton pickers are needed to get the crop out. Gins all over the county are running night and day. Farmers say in some sections the cotton will yield from one-half to a bale per acre. In other sections the yield will be much lighter. There are about 110,000 acres of cotton in Fannin County.

Plan To Send Messages To U. S. Soldiers

Messages from relatives and friends to members of the Armed Forces missing in action, but not yet reported by the Japanese as prisoners of war, will be sent by the Red Cross under a plan announced today by the Office of War Information. This has been made possible by a special arrangement worked out jointly by the American Red Cross, the State, War, Navy and Post Office Departments, Office of Censorship, Board of Economics Warfare, and Office of War Information.

'As the Japanese furnish official lists of prisoners of war, next of kin are notified by the War and Navy Departments and the regular prisoners of war mail becomes available to them, in accordance with the terms of the Geneva Convention. Instructions for making use of this service are sent immediately folowing such notification. However, the continued delay of the Japanese in furnishing lists of prisoners has made it necessary to try some other method of communication.

'To offer some home of communication, a message form developed by the Red Cross for messages across enemy lines has now been adapted to use for messages addressed to service men reported mising in action. The Red Cross can give no assurance of delivery. As facilities are available ,these messages will be sent to the delegate of the International Red Cross Committee in Japan, who will make every effort to see that they are delivered. The new arrangement does not apply to packages from relatives or friends.

'Persons, who have received notification that their relatives are missing in action but have not been notified that they are prisoners of war, may go to the nearest chapter of the American Red Cross and be assisted in the preparation of Red Cross message form 1616. The agencies which worked out this arrangement ask that the number of messages sent be limited voluntarily so that there may be the best possible chance of delivery. Memers of families should agree on a single message and friends should, as far as possible, defer to the family's greater claim to use this twenty-five word message form.'"

Detailed instructions for using form 1616 for these messages are given in SAF-99-HS-14 now being distributed.

It is indicated that the SS Gripsholm may soon sail again for Lourenco Marques to exchange Japanese and American nationals and it is hoped that many of these messages can be transported on this ship. Red Cross Chairmen are urged to expedite the handling of these messages and to air mail them daily for the next few days in Inquiry Service, National Headquarters.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Branch had their children with them this week-end as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pierce and children of Freeport. Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Crane of Greenville, Mrs. Pearl Davis of Lone Oak, and Mrs. Metz Branch of McKinney.
